Listening to young people

What kind of Salesians are we?

What kind of Salesians are we?

What Kind of Salesians are we?

With the letter addressed to all the Salesians of the world, the Rector Major launched the journey toward the 28th General Chapter (2020), a chapter presenting two interesting novelties. The first is the return to Valdocco, 62 years after the last chapter hosted at the Salesian motherhouse, CG18 (1958). The second is the approach. In fact, it is the first time that a Salesian general chapter has proposed its theme as a question: "What kind of Salesians for today's young people?"

It's not simply a rhetorical question, but an exhortation to the Congregation to focus attention on the figure of the Salesian and to "synchronize or tune in" with the needs of today's young people, in whatever context Salesians may be summoned to.

With this theme, we would like to study and deepen the following points:

- The profile of today's Salesian, and also of the Salesian of tomorrow, so that he will be able to offer the best possible answer to today's young people, especially the poorer and the ones most in need of help. Obviously it is a mission we do not carry on by ourselves, but a mission shared between Salesians and lay people.

We will as well focus our attention on several juridical issues, very relevant for the Salesian mission that we are called to live today.
